

Yale University
Inter-Office Correspondence

Date: January 27, 1983

To: J. Lederberg

From: B. Bachmann ↓

No, you didn't send the strain distribution records along with the strains. Perhaps they should be kept together.

If you can afford to have duplicates made, I would keep the originals here and store the duplicates in a separate building - in case of fire, flood, or other catastrophe. (We're a little hard up at the moment as strain requests have increased greatly and we're locked into a five-year grant budget.)

SWT